Safety Tips

- Check river conditions before launching www.nps.gov/sacn/ planyourvisit/currentconditions.
- Know your paddling ability. Not all stretches of the Riverway are suitable for beginners.
- Avoid trees that have fallen into the river. They can catch and overturn your vessel.
- Wear sunscreen, sunglasses, and a hat to prevent sunburn.
- Use alcohol responsibly.
- Do not bring glass containers to the Riverway. Broken glass cuts bare feet.
- Protect your feet with river shoes or sandals
- Bring your own drinking water. The water is not safe to drink unless purified.
- · Check for ticks.
- Watch for poison ivy.

St. Croix River Map 7: Highway 70 to Highway 8

smallmouth bass

The renowned smallmouth bass fishery on the upper part of this river stretch reflects the quality of the habitat and the clean water. The slower water behind the dam adds lake fish to the diversity of species in the park.

In This Stretch

- Shallow waters create sandbars in summer in some areas of this stretch. Careful reading of the river will help you avoid walking.
- A short series of rapids exists in the area of Stevens Creek Landing.
- The uneven river bottom at Old Railroad Landing can make currents erratic.
- The river narrows at the old Nevers Dam site, and it can be deceptively turbulent in this area.
- The 10-mile section upstream of the hydroelectric dam near the St. Croix River Visitor Center is lake-like and called the Indian Head Flowage. This is commonly used by houseboats, fishing boats, and pontoons.
- There is a 1.3 mile portage around the dam through Taylors Falls, Minnesota.
